What Happy Minute Is?
Happy Minute is an extraordinary opportunity offered by URTV to all the persons who are in connection with this site during the day.

Extraordinary sales offer at price zero will be announced randomly during the day.
You just click and reserve the right to accept a sale offer at price zero!
You pay just the ordinary delivery expenses (varying from country to country ) at home, at good receiving, or by credit card - as you want!

Extraordinary goods available!
Video cameras! Video recorders! Video cassettes stock!

Remember:
the sale offer announcement is available for a limited amount of time, so ready to click!

Do not loose this extraordinary opportunity!

The special daily offer "Happy minute" will appear every day in a different room which will be graphically put under evidence - it's completely random, so open your eyes!

FIG. 16

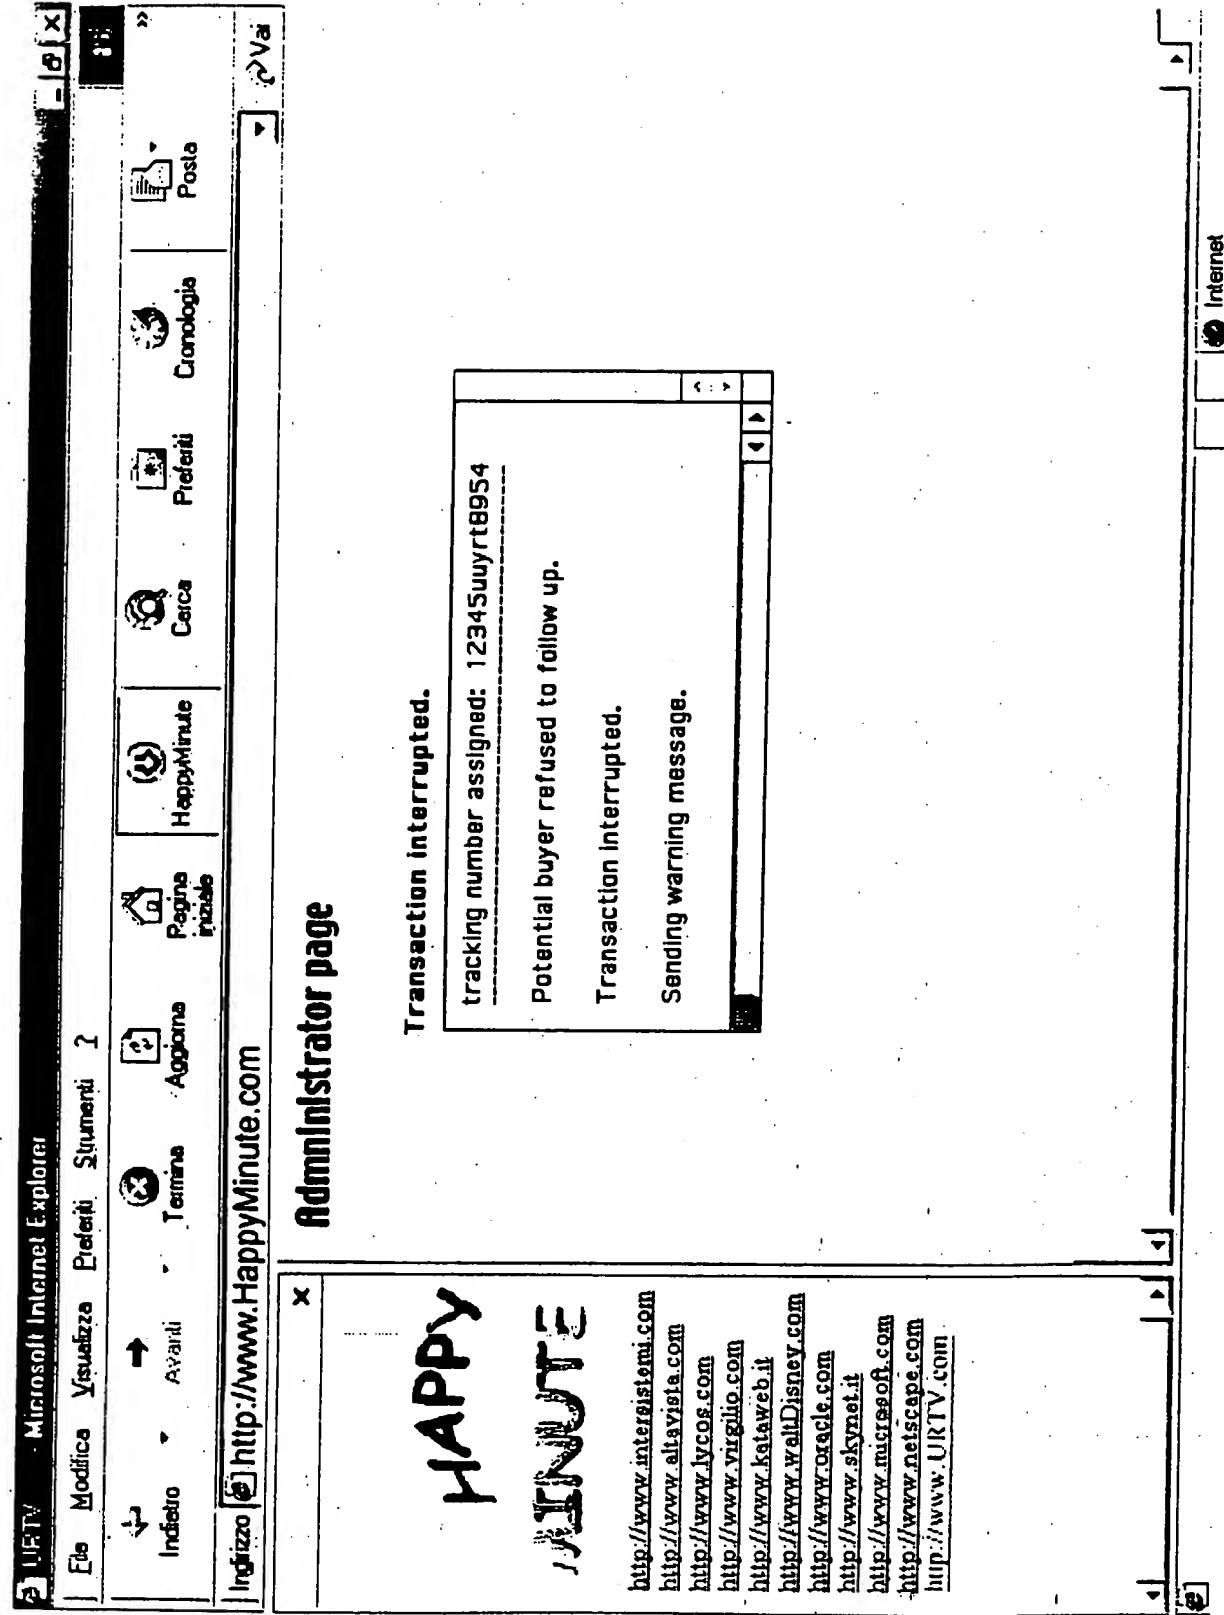

JUN 04 2007

The image is a composite screenshot of a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window. The main content area displays an error message from a service named 'Happy Minute'. The message reads: "This is Happy Minute !", followed by "The payment process has not been completed". Below this, it says "Cause:" and lists two reasons: "shortage of money in bank account" and "expiration of credit card". To the right of the message is a question "Do you want to pay cash delivery? yes  no ", with a "Send" button below it. The background of the browser window shows several other windows and toolbars, including one for 'URTV.com' and another for 'InterSistemi.com'. The overall appearance is cluttered and typical of a mid-1990s computer desktop environment.
